Harry A. Makey Declares For Attorney General George E. Alter For Governor

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS
OF PENNSYLVANIA.

April 30, 1922.
I believe it to be the part of every good citizen to actively interest himself in behalf of the political party of his choice. I further hold that a citizen's loyalty to his party demands that he submerge his personal ambitions to its best interests. When I withdrew as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, I did so willingly, without coercion of any kind and with the sole purpose of simplifying the situation so that the Republican Party might not be weakened through untimely strife among the friends of numerous candidates. I then foresaw that a campaign would be immediately inaugurated to convince my friends, as well as myself, that I had not been fairly treated therefore, in my letter of withdrawal

The contest for Governor
The contest for the Republican nomination is between two men, both of whom in their private and public lives are beyond reproach. It also goes without saying that they are both tremendously in earnest in their pronouncements of worthy effort on behalf of our great State. We could

I stated that my experience had been a happy one; that I had received fair treatment and that any attempt to make me feel otherwise would fail. Although individuals, organizations, and newspapers immediately began a concerted movement to draw from me some utterance of dissatisfaction, I have nothing to retract from my original statement, for I am heartily and enthusiastically supporting Attorney General Alter.

LEGISLATIVE JAM RETARDS CONGRESS IN ITS EFFORT TO PUT TARIFF BILL THROUGH ACCORDING TO ADMINISTRATION PLANS

Democrats Fighting Tariff Schedules To The Last Sentence, Their Obstructive Tactics Interfering Greatly With The Ordinary Dispatch
Of Much Pressing And Important Business.

MAY INSIST UPON USE OF BIG STICK

Washington, D. C., May 11.—Senate leaders today took up the grind, weary and failing, to see the end of the long road. Congress is in a legislative jam. This jam threatens to prevent enactment of tariff legislation on which Congress has now been at work for more than a year. Necessity for passing the army and navy bills before July 1st is causing tariff leaders the greatest worry. Eleven hours were spent yesterday in disposing of six amendments. Even the resort to night sessions begun last night apparently had little effect. The Democrats are fighting the tariff inch by inch. President Harding may be asked next week to exert his leadership to get the Senate Republicans pulling together in an effort to put over not only the tariff and appropriations bills, but the ship subsidy as well.

Contracting Repairs By Railroads Illegal

Chicago, May 10.—Contracting shop repair to outside firms by railroad companies was declared a violation of the transportation act and contract provisions conflicting with the wages and working rules laid down by the Railroad Labor Board were declared illegal in a decision handed down today. The decision was characterized by the board as the most important it has rendered.

Under the decision thousands of former railroad employees now working for the contractor at wages now varying are brought back under the railroad board's jurisdiction. Rules contrary to those laid down by the board are also illegal.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM WILL COMPETE AT STATE COLLEGE

The Clearfield High School Athletic Team, to the number of twenty-five young huskies will participate in the State High School championship races and athletic feats at State College on Saturday.

The Clearfield boys who won several State championships at the State College field meet last year are entered in about everything on the card and Coach Crane promises to bring home a fair share of the bacon.

Ten team and their friends will leave tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock for State College and will make the trip by automobile.

TWO MORE DAYS OF CLEAN-UP WEEK

This is Clean-up Week in Clearfield. Have you realized this, Mr. Citizen, and have you put your premises in order? If not, why not? The public health the coming summer and fall depends largely upon the thoroughness of the clean-up now. The dirt left in street or alley, cellar, barn or back yard now may be the breeding place of an epidemic that will sweep the town later on. Surely no man wants to make himself liable for any such thing when a small effort now will remove all possible danger of any such condition.

Clearfield people generally are responding to the appeal of the Board of Health and thereby helping to make this a real Clean-up Week, and a vast amount of dirt, rubbish and debris is being hauled out to the Guinness Hill garbage dump daily. A few have thus far failed to respond to the call. It is to all such that this final appeal is made. But two days of the week remain, let every household who has thus far failed to clean up, get busy at once and help us show a 100 per cent clean town by Monday.

THE ROVER

By George Randolph Chester

A FLURRY IN PILLS

1922, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

HE porter being in sight, John Ames wisely refrained from opening the window for the attractive young lady; moreover, he had an impression that her thanks would be disconcerting if he did. She had sarcastic gray eyes.

"May I open the window for you, Miss Janie?" offered the porter. Uncomfortable porter, too! Ames liked them with a dialect and a chuckle; gray hair preferred.

"How are you coming on with your law studies, Lewis?" asked the gray-eyed one, in the cold, even voice of intellectuality.

Ames glanced again at the cleat-cut profile of the girl, slender, confidently poised, neatly tailored. She had long, curling eyelashes. He became conscious, in some indefinable way, that she was aware of his watching her and there was a tiny sarcastic curl at the corners of her lips. Ames bent himself studiously to his paper. Mechanically he read again the headlines about the horse show, and the regatta, and the scandal at Newport; and turned from them to the advertisements of Ocean Foam Baking Powder, and Brainful Breakfast Cereal; and "Kleno; the Good Old-Fashioned Stuff!"

That last advertisement annoyed him very much. Those six words were set in the midst of a great blank space, with a heavy black border around it, and a question mark underneath.

The cold, even voice of the girl flowed on and on. Lewis was a hard-working student, it seemed; and "Miss Janie" knew everything. Not that she made any tremendous assumption of knowledge, but that she was actually an astounding storehouse of well-digested education.

Ames grew tremendously fascinated. He found himself waiting for her to slip; but she was right there with the correct answer, and the logical reason for it; about Cetero, and the binomial theorem, and the cosmos, and Arnold Bennett, and a new kind of fudge. If she tripped any place, it was past where John Ames had been in the book; and he had leafed through quite a distance himself. Again he caught that sarcastic little curl, and looked carelessly out of the window, with a splendid restraint from abruptness. His eye lit on a big sign-board, devoted entirely to "Kleno; the Good-

Old-Fashioned Stuff!" Not caring a continental what this Kleno might or might not be, he slammed down his paper, and frankly listened.

It seemed that "Miss Janie" had a grandfather, and a father and mother, and a normal number of uncles and aunts and cousins, and a pet niece, most of whom bore the family name of Stanbury. She had been vibrating on this road, from branch to branch of the family tree, since she was a child. It would be a treat to talk with a girl like that.

A loose-faced brakeman popped his head in at the door, and yelled something which was probably the name of a town. He smiled at Miss "Janie" Stanbury, and she nodded brightly.

A savage-looking conductor came through. He was as early in appearance as if he ate nothing but raw meat, and he leaned over, as he passed "Janie's" seat, and made a remark which brought forth a giggle.

The train slowed down. The intellectual porter brushed Miss Stanbury, and accepted a quarter, and gathered up her baggage.

Mechanically, as if obeying some power outside his volition, tall John Ames picked up his own luggage, and followed.

"Beg your pardon, sir; this isn't your station," politely advised the porter.

"Oh, well, never mind," answered Ames, as one in a dream, and handed the porter a coin.

The amazingly informed girl, quite "smart" looking seen now in movement, stepped into a waiting family carriage, and the porter stepped on the train, leaving John Ames alone. In the middle of the platform, with his trunks in the baggage car ahead, and his reason cursing his impulse, which had so often made a fool of him.

The train and the carriage moved away at the same moment. The porter, looking back, smiled broadly; then opened a wide mouth, and laughed. The girl, turning, did not smile. She grinned!

Chapter II.

About the only thing of interest John Ames saw in the town was a three-story frame building with the side blown out and without a whole pane of glass in it. The noteworthy thing about it, however, was a big new gilt sign above the cornice, which said:

"Kleno

The Good Old-Fashioned Stuff."

The building itself was blackened, and grimed, and water-soaked; and its weather-bearding hung on it as if the structure had been carelessly rattled.

"Cleaning compound," explained the cigar store man, passing the street; guaranteed to take the spots off anything from a spotted reputation to a calico horse.

"The company has apparently moved," guessed Ames, trying still another brand of cigar without much hope.

"The day of the explosion," returned the official joker, who had cultivated the trick of never smiling.

"Anyone hurt?" and Ames wondered if he might not have done better by lighting the other end of his pipe.

"Nope at least Henry never said so," Ames frowned slightly with displeasure.

"Killed," he surmised. "One of the workmen?"

"The busiest one of the whole lot, but he was the proprietor," stated the cigar store man, who was frog-eyed. "Henry Phelps was well enough off to satisfy most anybody, until he thought about 'Kleno'; but his heirs have no pride in the business. The way Henry popped across the street kind of discouraged them."

Ames had no difficulty for the topic of vent.

"All that advertising gone to waste," he worried. "It must have cost a fortune."

The cigar dealer was explaining, in his most humorous vein, just how much money Henry Phelps had spent, and how foolish he had been to spend it, and how regretful his heirs were about it, when an old-fashioned buggy drove by. Behind the plodding white horse sat Janet Stanbury and a straight little gray-haired man of the ancient school, whose firm lips sat above a chin which missed a beard.

"Nice looking old chap," commented Ames with tremendous indifference.

"Doc Dill," grinned the cigar dealer. "He's quit practice so he can read more. This is a high-brow town. The girl with him lives next door to the professor. They're writing a book. Wouldn't that kill you? How do you like that, eh?"

"It's most uncomfortable," stated Ames, and resolved to buy no more in that place.

DIDN'T HAVE A NICKEL—BUT HIS CHECK

A wealthy man once had to borrow a nickel in order to ride to his office on the street car. No ready money—but he could give a certified check for $100,000. He did not carry much cash with him, he banked almost every cent he made and paid everything by check. That's the reason he was wealthy, he saved, saved every cent he could.

Your funds deposited in this old established bank are thus readily available, constantly subject to check but not where you are apt to spend them foolishly.

SCHOOL TEACHERS URGE RE-ELECTION OF PEPPER

Senator's Great Work to Bring About Increased Pay Won't Be Forgotten by Women.

HAS STATE-WIDE POPULARITY

Thirty-nine counties throughout the state of Pennsylvania are completely organized and solid in their support of Senator George Wharton Pepper.

Report of the spontaneous enthusiasm evinced by women in smaller voting districts of the state as well as in large cities for the candidacy of Senator Pepper has just been made by Mrs. Thomas, Robinson, chairman of the Women's Activities of the Central Pepper Committee, in Philadelphia.

In Lebanon county, Pepper committees are working in every section, and under the direction of Mrs. A. R. Senbold, two women have been appointed in each voting district. Mrs. Ruth Bennett, chairman of the Committee of Colored Women, throughout the state has begun intensive work among colored women and reports the closest co-operation of their committees and the greatest enthusiasm in every section in which they are working.

Women Working For Pepper.

If not more active than the men in championing the candidacy of Senator Pepper, whose name at the primary election on May 16 will appear on the Republican ballot for nomination as the party's candidate for the unexpired term of the late Senator Boise Penrose, women of the state are manifesting a certain zest which comes with a recently acquired privilege of supporting a candidate in whose success each woman feels a personal interest.

Hundreds of letters of endorsement of Senator Pepper are pouring into the office of the Central Campaign Committee from women of all classes and all sections of the state. The dominant note of praise of the senator running through all the letters is his sympathy with all ranks of people, his patriotism and his ability to exercise sound judgment on matters of national as well as international importance.

Popular With School Teachers.

Probably the most insistent group of Senator Pepper's protagonists are the school teachers of Pennsylvania. Enjoining as they have never enjoyed before the privileges which they all recognize to be the result of the senator's constructive work and untiring efforts in their behalf, they are leaving no stone unturned to secure him as their representative in the United States senate.

In the latest issue of the "News Letter," a monthly publication gotten out by the school teachers of Philadelphia, the following endorsement appeared in "box" form on the front page:

"Who was indeed a friend in our very great need two years ago?"

"Such men glorify public service. Let us honor ourselves at the May primaries."

"Remember the date—May 16."

"Such evidences of earnestness and whole-heartedness on the part of organized bodies of citizens of the city of Philadelphia are not only unusual, but also from participation in any thing favoring of politics, marks a new era in political affairs which is significant."

Gratitude of the sort expressed by the school teachers is felt by every organization and every individual that has at any time been associated with Senator Pepper.

Civic Club Pledges Support.

At another get-together luncheon at the Civic Club yesterday women of Philadelphia known to be interested in every cause which lends itself to civic betterment, pledged their unfailing efforts to secure the nomination of the candidate of their choice, Senator George Wharton Pepper, at the primaries.

The candidacy of Honorable George Wharton Pepper for the United States senate has my deep interest," said Mrs. Gertrude B. Biddi, president of the Civic Club.

"The commonwealth of Pennsylvania is now so worthily represented by Mr. Pepper in the national councils that it seems to me to be not only a duty but a privilege to support him."

Mrs. Dunning's Endorsement.

Adding her word to the general declaration of approval of the senator, Mrs. George A. Dunning, vice-president of the Women's Republican Club of Pennsylvania, said:

"In endorsing the candidacy of Senator Pepper, it gives me great personal satisfaction to add my word to the universal expression of approval. A splendid record for square dealing and ability, no political affiliations of that kind which might warp his judgment, and the courage to look to his convictions, make of him a representative in the senate of whom his state may well be proud."

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Yesterday we gave you Dr. Royal S. Copeland's recipe for one hundred years of life. Dr. Copeland requires a person to do a lot of things in order to attain the century mark, but here comes a couple of French doctors with a formula that lays the New York Physician in the shade. The French pair, noted scientists, have a system whereby you "let George do it," and beat Dr. Copeland fifty years.

They explained to the Geographical Society of Paris on Monday last, their system of rejuvenation, whereby we can all live to be at least 150 years old.

As explained by these savants the newly discovered system consists in muscular injection of new cells for old ones. The doctors cited several instances where their method of replacing worn out cells had been successful in prolonging life. The scientists who claim to have perfected this treatment are Drs. David Javoriski and Vachet.

To use an old time Clearfield colloquialism, President Harding, won't "pint old men," at least to the office of Federal Judge. A general administration policy has been decided upon in the appointment of Federal Judges the chief feature of which is that no appointment will be made of men who are over sixty years of age it was learned at the White House.

ust recently. There has been just one deviation from that rule thus far and that was on the appointment of Chief Justice William Howard Taft.

Much excitement has been occasioned in Northern Ontario by the discovery of a new placer gold mining area South of Monrovia, Monroe Lake, according to consular reports received by the Department of Commerce. One hundred and fifty claims have been staked out within the last three weeks and prospectors are entering the region every day.

The new placer mining district is about four miles East of the famous Crepus mine, which produced gold in large quantities prior to 1914.

B. C. Forbes, the noted Financial Expert of the New York American is responsible for the following interesting observation upon the status of living costs the past ten years.

The high peak was reached on February 1st, 1920. The maximum advance then shown was fully 126 per cent.

The low point since then was touched on June 1 of last year, the advance over 1913 being then only slightly more than fifteen per cent.

Since then there has been an irregular advance, amounting in all to 12 per cent.

After declining during March, there was quite an appreciable recovery last month, about 1 1/2 per cent.

Let us examine which class of commodities and merchandise have advanced most and which have advanced least since prewar days.

Taking the 1913 average as 100, the different groups now stand at the following average prices:

Breadstuffs	131
Livestock	105

Fruits
Hides and Leather

We say "an Eden" because it is the only washer with the Sediment Zone—that patented feature which separates all dirt from the clothes as soon as it is flushed out of them and keeps it from mixing with the things again. And so, if you want your things really clean, get the washer that washes clean—The Eden with the Sediment Zone.

Investigate the Sediment Zone in your home—FREE

You will have to have an electric clothes washer sooner or later—women know how much time, strength and money they save. When you do buy, get the washer that saves most and serves best. We will send an Eden to your own home and let you see how much cleaner the Eden washes your clothes than they have ever been washed before. You don't have to keep the machine—we stand all the expense of delivery and let you assume no obligation whatsoever. But if you are persuaded enough to see what it will save you, keep the Eden on the Easy-Payment Plan by which you pay as you save.

Why do most motorists use ATLANTIC?

It is no great achievement to sell a man a gasoline once—for then the urge to buy is aided by the willingness to try.

But to sell him the same brand of gasoline over and over, month after month—that's where uniformly high quality counts; where the only successful selling influence is—SATISFACTION.

That's why Atlantic Gasoline stays sold. That's why the majority of motorists use Atlantic—and stick to it!

Atlantic is good gasoline. But it is more than that. It is right gasoline. It is made for present-day motors and to meet the wide range of operating conditions a gasoline encounters.

Atlantic is a balanced gasoline. Its uniform "chain of boiling points" combines the volatility required for quick and sure ignition with the more stable elements a gasoline must have to put power into the drive.

What's more, Atlantic is dependable. It is uniform. Buy it anywhere, any time. It never disappoints.

PARTISAN ATTACKS

The nature of the attacks made upon Attorney General Daugherty indicates that they are inspired by political motives for the purpose of discrediting the department of justice and impeding its prosecution of criminals. Several attorneys general have had experiences of this kind.

When simmered down, the most serious charges against Mr. Daugherty are that he is a politician and that he is a bad enemy and a good friend. As politicians make these charges, and as all good Americans are politicians, or ought to be, it seems hardly probable that Mr. Daugherty will suffer ignominy because of his activity in politics. If all citizens were as active in politics as Mr. Daugherty, the affairs of the United States would be capably administered at all times and there would be fewer charlatans in public places. The imposter and "four-flusher" instinctively hates a man like Harry Daugherty. So long as he is attorney general there is no comfort to be found by law-breakers, and nothing would please them so much as to have him resign in discouragement and disgust as a result of their attacks. But they mistake their man.

The public interest, so far as the prosecution of crimes against the United States is concerned, is in the hands of an official who can not be swerved from his duty. He knows the interests that are making the fight against him, and no doubt he will take extra pleasure in making sure that they get their deserts from the United States government.

"The public is failing to respond to the appeal for financial aid."

That is a familiar line to be seen in the newspapers of the country; it has been a familiar line for months.

Indeed, the appeal must be freighted with the heavy burden of need these days, if the general public is to unloose its purse strings and permit money to roll forth. The general public is not letting its silver and gold roll into the maw of every campaign that is undertaken without knowing that, in addition to it being a good cause, there is good cause for it. The numerous drives waged during the war had their birth with the war and the inspiration for them ended with the war.

Never again will there be that generous response of war days without the shadows of war. But, always, the people of America will respond to the need of the American communities. The Salvation Army is a real need. Keep this in mind and help them get their budget.

"What would be the reaction upon the cost of living if advertising ceased and its beneficent force were stopped?" This question, asked by the Fourth Estate, provides much food for rumination.

It is an interesting conjecture. Advertising largely takes the place of personal selling effort, which is very much more expensive.

A California editor cogitating on the possibility of a cessation of advertising says:

"It would mean that our railroad trains would be thronged with salesmen whose homeward bound mail would carry fewer orders, all of smaller volume than now.

"Distribution upon the present scale would be impossible. Manufacturing would fall off, with a consequent decrease in labor demand. Jobbers would find their business proportionally limited. Retailers would make fewer and slower turnovers. Prices of all commodities would take a rise that would make war prices and ante-war prices seem low by comparison."

You have a temperament. Everybody has. Old fashioned folk would call it your disposition. But science is following a more modern style. So you might as well get in line and acknowledge that you, too, are carrying a temperament concealed somewhere about your person.

Very well, then, how about getting acquainted with your temperament? It is the child of your moods and the grandchild of your emotions. Want to test it out? If you stand living with yourself, do this for a month.

When you get up every morning scowl at yourself in the mirror. At the end of the month, say psychologists, your facial map will resemble a sector of no man's land in rainy weather. Then start smiling at what you see in the mirror on the thirty-first day. You will perk up wonderfully. Friends will marvel at the change that's come over you. And your digestion will be better.

But don't keep up the morning smile too persistently. It may degenerate into a simper. Having let your temperament go to both extremes, take control and regulate it. Let the be joyous without becoming chronically sanguine.

Lutheran Church Notes

The members of St. John's are not only interested in the work at home but have manifested a deep interest in the work of the Master in other lands. This interest has been shown in a substantial financial way. The Sunday school and Women's Missionary Society each gave $50.00 to further the work of the Kingdom in the South American field. Last Sunday St. John's gave $348.00 for the Orphanage of Armenia. They believe the Master and give in that spirit.

This evening at 7:45 will be held the Annual Congregational meeting at which time a full and complete report will be read from all the organizations, showing the activities during the past year. At this time three councilmen will be elected for a 3 year period. Following the business meeting a reception will be given to all new members received during the present pastorate of 18 months, 98 members have been received during this time.

All members new and old, are invited and urged to be present this evening at 7:45 for the business session and to enjoy the social hour following. Come!

Mrs. Nannie Fulford left today for Boardman where she will spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fulford.

The Point of View

One of the most curious things about American politics is that without a single historical exception a partisan is invariably a member of the other party.—Washington Post.

We are told that there is nothing sure but death and taxes; still we feel pretty certain that we shall never see a circus parade headed by a plesiomamus.

WASHING IS HARD WORK

Even With a Machine to Help

The machine can't draw water, lug it to the stove, heat it, and empty it into the washer. It can't drag heavy baskets of soggy clothes to the line, pin them up, take them down, and bring them in again.

We'll relieve you of all this heavy work—take all the steam and bother out of your home—wash for you, iron, too, if you wish, at a cost within your reach.

We have several different types of service. Each is thorough and economical. No initial investment is required; no long-drawn-out installments to be net each month.

You'll find this modern way of washing a most welcome relief—phone today and have our representative call.

FOR THE HONOR of PENNSYLVANIA

VOTE FOR

Gifford Pinchot

FOR GOVERNOR

A Vote for Pinchot is:

A vote to end scandalous manipulations of millions of dollars of public funds in favorite banks, and the flotation of notes for powerful politicians, after the receipt of large deposits of taxpayers' money.

A vote to guarantee the immediate installation of a budget system.

A vote to exterminate the contractors' combine which has its traitorous tentacles at the throat of the Republican State organization, and, banking upon a friendly administration at Harrisburg, has its greedy eyes riveted upon the tens of millions of dollars in State highway and other construction contracts soon to be let, and the control of the taxing power over upwards of forty billions of dollars of assessed property.

A vote to destroy for all time, that malign and sinister alliance of State officials and political contractors, responsible for the orgy of profligate extravagance and reign of legislative anarchy, which saddled upon the people, among other things, these iniquitous enactments:

A tax on anthracite coal, a most unjustifiable affliction upon householders, with Attorney General Alter now fighting to have the State Supreme Court reverse itself in order that this levy may be adjudged constitutional.

A tax on gasoline, which seriously affects practically every farmer, merchant and, among others, especially, the man of limited means with his family pleasure car.

A doubled collateral inheritance tax, which requires every relative of a decedent, however small the amount involved may be, to contribute from an estate one hundred per cent. more in taxes than was taken by the State before Sproul and his Attorney General were inaugurated.

A payroll of many increased salaries for favored ones, while aid is withheld from the gallant soldiers of the World War and their dependents, and a payroll padded to an unprecedented degree to create fat jobs for professional politicians.

To Vote for Pinchot

(Put a cross mark after his name as indicated below)

GOVERNOR

VOTE FOR (X)
George E. Alter (Allegheny County)
Frank P. Croft (Montgomery County)
Gifford Pinchot (Clearfield County)	X
John Clinton Parker (Philadelphia County)
John S. Fisher (Indiana County)

NOTE—John S. Fisher withdrew too late to have his name taken off the ballot. A vote for Fisher, therefore is a vote thrown away.

A vote for Pinchot means an immediate housecleaning, a thorough conscientious REPUBLICAN housecleaning, with no political or factional interests to serve—but with the sole aim of effecting an economical and efficient administration of the State Government, and the elimination of contractor rule of the Republican Party of Pennsylvania.

Don't Nominate Alter
unless you wish to endorse the Sproul-Vare-Leslie-Eyre leadership, and its record as set forth herein—and more—and you wish to invite Republican disaster in November.

Nominate Pinchot
and you insure a complete official reckoning on Capitol Hill, as Edwin S. Stuart accomplished in the Capitol building graft cases, and you make certain the election of a solid Republican delegation to Congress to back up President Harding.

CURWENSVILLE

Our Elementary Schools closed last Thursday and the teachers of the various rooms are enjoying an enforced vacation. They may be found at the following addresses:

Miss Marian Underwood, Clearfield, Pa.; Miss Edna McCracken, Clearfield, Pa.; Miss Louise Karstetter, Curwensville, Pa.; Miss Freda Colgrove, Clearfield, Pa.; Miss Marian Snyder, Curwensville, Pa.; Miss Emma E. Stolzhus, Martinsburg, Pa.; Miss Elizabeth Whitaker, Curwensville, Pa.; Miss Bernice LaBorde, Curwensville, Pa.; Miss Mildred E. Tate, Duncansville, Pa.; Miss Cora L. Haley, Curwensville, Pa.; Miss Inez Redden, Mahaffey.

The departure of these young women leaves but eight teachers in our schools to finish the nine months term from one to six inclusive having but an eight month's term. Prof. Norris gladdened the hearts of the remaining grades and the High School yesterday by announcing that all students who make 85% per cent or better in conduct will be exempt from final examinations in all branches in which they make 90% or better. This system of exemption is an incentive to better work, each day as well as better conduct and is a decidedly commendable move on the part of our successful Sept.

On Monday morning at chapel Prof. Norris announced "Class Night" for Friday, May 12 in the Opera House. He said that the Seniors were keeping their program a secret but that he understands it will be a transcendental apocalyptic performance without any platitudinous ponderosity. It is expected that the bowl of ecstasies would be full to overflowing. Each member of the class will give a few tintinnabulations from the "memories that swell" and personify his own eccentricities and idiosyncrasies. The Junior declared they will discover and make known the program before Friday night but the Seniors vow that their secret is so safely guarded that it will be a complete surprise and a mighty pleasant surprise at that. The Faculty has been holding meetings to determine whether or not to compel the Seniors to pass their program over to be censored. But the Seniors claim they have a perfect right to hold a show all their own without molestation from Faculty, School Board, Board of Health, Burgess Erhard or Chief Clarke. Anyway there is going to be some fun over the matter. John Norris knows all about it, he had to before he could permit it to be shown in the Opera House, but he is sworn to secrecy. So there you are!!!

The last spelling contest will be held in the study hall of the High School on Friday afternoon, July 12. The words will be made out by Prof. Croyle and Zetler and Misses Walters and Burkett. Mr. Reuben Robinson should feel gratified over the success of these contests and the interest he stimulated in spelling. Every boy admits that spelling is fundamental and is often neglected for something less important.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Hipps, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bloom, Mr. and Mrs. Al McNaull, Mr. and Mrs. John Pifer took in the Victor Artists at Clearfield on Tuesday night.

Miss Olive Passmore of Lumber City, shopped in town on Wednesday.

Jack Jones of Buffalo, was a business visitor on Wednesday.

Married, on Thursday evening of last week by Rev. B. H. Conley, Mr. Joseph M. Milliron and Miss Gussie Heisenrath.

Mrs. Axel Landgren of Smith's Mills is a pleasant guest of her sister-in-law Mrs. Jas Volpe on Ridge avenue.

Miss Ellen Sykes enjoyed a short visit this week from her brother Mr. George Sykes and nephew, Mr. Ronald Sykes of DuBois.

Miss Helen Rich called at the parsonage Monday evening. Her little sisters Alice and Genevieve accompanied her.

Chester Campbell has been employed as track walker on the N. Y. C.

The Rev. J. D. Gridley will preach a special sermon in the Eden M. E. Church Saturday evening, May 13, Come and hear him.

George Bowery of Surveyor preached at the Wednesday evening special service.

Blossoms on the apple trees in the parsonage lot look like flower pots.

For Preference. A reader mentions the case of a detective, who, after twenty years, remembered the face of a forger, and arrested the man when the crime had almost been forgotten. One would rather have that sort of memory than that sort of face.

34TH DISTRICT OF PENNSYLVANIA

HARRY B. SCOTT

PHILIPSBURG, PENNSYLVANIA

- 1.—Clearfield and Centre Counties are the heart of the State of Pennsylvania, embracing many of the great natural resources of our State and require real representation at Harrisburg.
- 2.—Clearfield and Centre Counties have the best people on earth and demand recognition. Why should Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties dictate the legislative policies of our State? We need a man who can "speak out in meeting" for the benefit of his constituents.
- 3.—Clearfield and Centre Counties need a Senator who is experienced in legislative procedure and will know when the things are "being pulled off" that may work to the detriment of these two great counties.
- 4.—Clearfield and Centre Counties need a Senator who can be depended upon to demand and receive respect and attention.

expect nothing else from any candidate. I am asking the Republican voters of Pennsylvania, however, to pass upon the candidacy of these two men without prejudice or passion, but to exercise the soundest discretion to determine which one, by his himself or to fight his way in the past training and performances, will be the better prepared man to meet the problems of the future.

Pinchot's Training

Mr. Pinchot, perhaps unfortunately for the development of those sturdy qualities that are so really needed at the present time, inherited great wealth. He found no necessity for hard work and untiring application for the purpose of maintaining world. I have frequently said that because of his wealth and an opportunity to lead a life of leisure, he is entitled to credit for having turned his activities into rather useful channels, but like a great many sons of rich parents, he took up a particular field of activity as a hobby and has devoted his time to forestry. If Pennsylvania were still a forest or if that department of State government overshadowed all others in importance, it might be well to consider Mr. Pinchot as a possible candidate. I submit that he has not had sufficient experience in executive places nor has he been hardened in that struggle for existence that has been the real school for the development of character and responsible position in Pennsylvania. His life has been spent in New York City and Washington, D. C., where he now maintains his real home. His technical residence, inay, perhaps be in Pike County, but it sees him very infrequently. He has not the ability to approach the consideration of any great question with that judicial and judicious poise so necessary to successfully fill the office of chief executive of the great State of Pennsylvania. He is an enthusiast, an idealist and a thoroughly impractical man. I am his personal friend and admirer, but when a man submits himself as a candidate for the greatest office within the gift of a people of a great State, he must cheerfully extend to even his friends the right to apply the acid test of fitness. I cannot concede even to a friend the right to ask the Republican voters of Pennsylvania to elevate him to the highest place within their gift when, in 1914, he deliberately declared that he was through with our party forever.

Attorney General Alter's Early Life
Let us turn, now, to the qualifications of Hon. George E. Alter. He still lives, and always has, in the town in Allegheny County where he was born. He is the offspring of a sturdy stock that for over a century has added lustre to its name and benefited the State by very hard and intensive employment. He is a product of our public schools. He has run the gamut of human experience—he clerked in stores, worked on a farm, studied stenography, spent several years in an architect's office where he became a proficient draftsman. While maintaining himself as a stenographer, he studied law and was admitted to the Bar of Allegheny County. He has been a member of the House of Representatives. His career in the sessions of 1909, 1911 and 1913 was brilliant and useful to our people. He was elected Speaker of the House in 1913. As a member of a Commission of Three he collaborated with two Common Pleas Judges in codifying and revising the laws of decedents' estates. This work culminated in the Decedents' Estate Act of 1917. He was a member of the Constitutional Amendment and Revision Commission in 1919. In 1920 he was appointed Attorney General of the State. He has been President of the Allegheny County Bar Association for two years and member of the Pennsylvania Bar Association and the American Bar Association. For thirty-two years he taught a Sunday School Class in the church of his choice and for thirty-four years he has been an official member of the Church Board. He has served as President of School Boards and Borough Councils. As a member of the Legislature he sponsored the Act under which the County of Allegheny erected the Boys' Farm School at Thornhill. He was an early advocate of the Workmen's Compensation Law and made the first speech in its behalf in the Legislative Halls in 1911. He was the first to advocate the Mothers' Pension Legislation. He helped to pass the Act of 1913, under which that great work was begun. He also supported and championed in 1913 the Women's Labor Act and the Child Labor Law. He is President of the Parting-of-the-Ways, an institution in Pittsburgh which takes care of men released from prison and seeks out work for them and gives them a new start in the world. He is Chairman of the Allegheny Valley District of the Boy Scouts of America. He has always deliberately chosen to champion and defend the poor man's causes and has ever turned a deaf ear to the flattery of wealth and power. He has been given honorary degrees by both Pennsylvania State and Lafayette Colleges. He is a lawyer of great ability—still small minded political partisans would charge that a man with a career such as this could be induced to forsake an independent course of righteousness and follow the advice of those who have not the State's best interests at heart!

The intelligent Pennsylvania voter will reject this plea as a slur upon the integrity of purpose of one of Pennsylvania's most illustrious and worthiest sons. His platform suggests achievement and sanity. His declarations are conservative and safe. He will appeal to the men and women of Pennsylvania who are not carried off their feet by unfounded charges and influenced by impossible promises. Mr. Pinchot now denounces Mr. Alter because he charges that he is being supported by those political leaders whom Mr. Pinchot and his friends sought out but failed to convince.

Futile Promises

Mr. Alter matches Pinchot in every one of his reasonable and possible declarations and has past performances as a guarantee for the future. Mr. Pinchot, in his rash statements, calculated only to deceive the unthinking, either has no conception of the constitutional limitations of the Governor's power or deliberately attempts to deceive.

I urge every patriotic citizen to actively support Attorney General Alter and thus enthroned Reason and Good Judgment and show the country at large that the good men and women of Pennsylvania are not carried from their moorings by unprovable charges and sensational declarations. Pennsylvania is solvent and patriotic and stands today where she always has stood—the Keystone of the arch and the greatest industrial State of all this Union. Our people are happy contented, devoted to good causes and fixed in their purpose to allow neither demagogue nor ambitious politicians to disturb their usual peaceful and well determined course.

The Working Man

The future success of the working man depends upon the prosperity of the employer. Business cannot trust thoughtless enthusiasm but will support the sane, careful and conservative Alter.

Yours for success

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects. They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

REEL ROMANCE, OR REAL ROMANCE, FOR PEGGY AND JACK:-

JACK DEMPSEY, WORLD'S HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION WHO MAY ACT IN A MOVIE WITH PEGGY JOYCE

Paris, May 6.—The world's greatest siren and the world's greatest prize fighter—will they undertake a reel romance, and may it become a real romance?

Paris is wondering. Peggy Joyce and Jack Dempsey are considering overtures to co-star in a movie. Both are reported seriously interested and Dempsey is said to have given more than passing attention to this American chorus girl, who has trampled ruthlessly on the hearts of many millionaires.

Acquaintances of both are asking would Peggy find a suitable mate in Dempsey? They think so. But Dempsey fans fear her exactions would ruin the fistie career of their idol, should he be lured by her caresses.

Peggy, though says she is done with him—as a lover.

The reason—the suicide the other day of William Errazuriz, the young Chilean, rich and married, who killed in himself because she refused to accept his attentions but told him she devoted to Henri Letellier the French editor.

Letellier was named in the divorce suit of Peggy's third husband.

Could Dempsey win where three millionaires have failed?

Peggy married Everett A. Archibald a Denver millionaire, when she was 17. The husband soon got a divorce in Idaho.

Sherburne Phillips Hopkins was next. He was a Washington lawyer representing wealthy Mexican oil interests. One glance at Peggy and he lost his heart. As soon as he got his divorce from his wife, he married Peggy.

She ran away from him two years later and went on the stage. She explained that millionaires were hurried things, all wrapped up in coupons and bonds and never with time for any thing but business. It was love that she wanted.

Along came James Stanley Joyce, Chicago lumberman. The morning after he met Peggy he sent her a truckload of roses and a $130,000 diamond ring.

As soon as the Hopkins divorce was settled, Joyce married Peggy. They went abroad on their honeymoon. But the husband returned alone.

Peggy was too much in demand.

So he started divorce proceedings, naming a long list of co-respondents, including a prince, a dancer, a duke, a New York restaurant keeper, and Letellier.

The divorce was granted last November. Peggy received a million and a quarter dollars for her settlement.

Since then she has been living in Paris.

FORMER LOCAL GIRL IN CONTEST

Miss Adahisa Shacklette, sister of Mrs. B. M. East, of Johnstown, and a former resident of Clearfield, where she was employed as an accountant by the Penn Public Service Company is a candidate for election by popular vote to the "Good Will Delegation" to be made up by the most popular young ladies in 100 cities.

The contest is being engineered under a plan of Miss Anne Morgan to raise a fund for devastated France. A contribution of ten cents is good for one vote. Miss Shacklette is now an employee of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad at Louisville, Ky., and represents that city in the contest. The winners will be given a free trip to France. Here's hoping old Clearfield is represented on that tour.

The Safest and Best Family Medicine

OUR MILK IS THE SAFEST MILK KNOWN

There's only one way to make milk absolutely safe and that is to pasteurize. This process destroys germs in a more satisfactory manner than any other way known to science.

Health officers have known for many years that pasteurized milk is absolutely safe and they have recommended unqualifiedly that all milk coming into their territories should undergo this process, as a factor of public safety. These facts have been made clear by experiments on humans and animals—that pasteurized milk is the only really safe milk that can be used with perfect safety.

Figures in Wood.
Figures in wood have various sources. These may be grouped in these due to structure, those caused by color variation or pigmentation, and to combination of the two, says the American Forestry Magazine. These again may be classified as normal and abnormal or pathologic. By normal is meant the natural condition of the wood of a sound tree. In the abnormal or pathologic are to be found the peculiar distortions and colorations resulting from disease, the attacks of insects and activities of various agencies not a part of the regular life processes of the trees.

CONSTIPATION NEARLY RUINED HIM

Famous Entertainer Made Well Again By Nerv-Worth

Thousands of people throughout the world have been delighted by the wonderful Edison records of Harry Siebert the famous whistler. Few could know that this charming man was practically a nervous wreck from constipation and stomach trouble for several years and that he had about despaired of getting any relief when he heard of the wonderful family remedy Nerv-Worth. But such is the fact. He improved so rapidly that he gained seven pounds before he had finished the first bottle. It was good healthy, firm flesh too. This famous remedy aids digestion, sweetens the stomach, stops gas and belching and bloating, regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, tones up the system, and does it all in an easy, natural manner without the use of any harmful drugs, but simple reliable vegetable essences that act directly upon the seat of trouble.

Most druggists have it; you can always get it at the Stewart Drug store in this city and each druggist is authorized to give the money back if the results of the first bottle are not encouraging. It is especially fine for women and children because of its pleasant taste and mild but always effective action.

Harry A. Makey Declares For Attorney General George E. Alter For Governor

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS
OF PENNSYLVANIA.

April 30, 1922.
I believe it to be the part of every good citizen to actively interest himself in behalf of the political party of his choice. I further hold that a citizen's loyalty to his party demands that he submerge his personal ambitions to its best interests. When I withdrew as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, I did so willingly, without coercion of any kind and with the sole purpose of simplifying the situation so that the Republican Party might not be weakened through untimely strife among the friends of numerous candidates. I then foresaw that a campaign would be immediately inaugurated to convince my friends, as well as myself, that I had not been fairly treated therefore, in my letter of withdrawal

I stated that my experience had been a happy one; that I had received fair treatment and that any attempt to make me feel otherwise would fail. Although individuals, organizations, and newspapers immediately began a concerted movement to draw from me some utterance of dissatisfaction, I have nothing to retract from my original statement, for I am heartily and enthusiastically supporting Attorney General Alter.

Two men, former employees of the bank, and a woman are under arrest for the robbery. All but a small portion of the loot was recovered at St. Augustine, Florida. August P. LEGISLATIVE JAM RETARDS CONGRESS IN ITS EFFORT TO PUT TARIFF BILL THROUGH ACCORDING TO ADMINISTRATION PLANS

Last Sentence, Their Obstructive Tactics Interfering Greatly With The Ordinary Dispatch
Of Much Pressing And Important Business.

MAY INSIST UPON USE OF BIG STICK

Washington, D. C., May 11.—Senate leaders today took up the grind, weary and failing, to see the end of the long road. Congress is in a legislative jam. This jam threatens to prevent enactment of tariff legislation on which Congress has now been at work for more than a year. Necessity for passing the army and navy bills before July 1st is causing tariff leaders the greatest worry. Eleven hours were spent yesterday in disposing of six amendments. Even the resort to night sessions begun last night apparently had little effect. The Democrats are fighting the tariff inch by inch. President Harding may be asked next week to exert his leadership to get the Senate Republicans pulling together in an effort to put over not only the tariff and appropriations bills, but the ship subsidy as well.

Contracting Repairs By Railroads Illegal

Chicago, May 10.—Contracting shop repair to outside firms by railroad companies was declared a violation of the transportation act and contract provisions conflicting with the wages and working rules laid down by the Railroad Labor Board were declared illegal in a decision handed down today. Under the decision thousands of former railroad employees now working for the contractor at wages now varying are brought back under the railroad board's jurisdiction. Rules contrary to those laid down by the board are also illegal.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM WILL COMPETE AT STATE COLLEGE

The Clearfield High School Athletic Team, to the number of twenty-five young huskies will participate in the State High School championship races and athletic feats at State College on Saturday.

The Clearfield boys who won several State championships at the State College field meet last year are entered in about everything on the card and Coach Crane promises to bring home a fair share of the bacon.

Ten team and their friends will leave tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock for State College and will make the trip by automobile.

TWO MORE DAYS OF CLEAN-UP WEEK

This is Clean-up Week in Clearfield. Have you realized this, Mr. Citizen, and have you put your premises in order? If not, why not? The public health the coming summer and fall depends largely upon the thoroughness of the clean-up now. The dirt left in street or alley, cellar, barn or back yard now may be the breeding place of an epidemic that will sweep the town later on. Surely no man wants to make himself liable for any such thing when a small effort now will remove all possible danger of any such condition.

Clearfield people generally are responding to the appeal of the Board of Health and thereby helping to make this a real Clean-up Week, and a vast amount of dirt, rubbish and debris is being hauled out to the Guinness Hill garbage dump daily. A few have thus far failed to respond to the call. It is to all such that this final appeal is made. But two days of the week remain, let every household who has thus far failed to clean up, get busy at once and help us show a 100 per cent clean town by Monday.

THE ROVER

By George Randolph Chester

A FLURRY IN PILLS

1922, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

HE porter being in sight, John Ames wisely refrained from opening the window for the attractive young lady; moreover, he had an impression that her thanks would be disconcerting if he did. She had sarcastic gray eyes.

"May I open the window for you, Miss Janie?" offered the porter. Uncomfortable porter, too! Ames liked them with a dialect and a chuckle; gray hair preferred.

"How are you coming on with your law studies, Lewis?" asked the gray-eyed one, in the cold, even voice of intellectuality.

Ames glanced again at the cleat-cut profile of the girl, slender, confidently poised, neatly tailored. She had long, curling eyelashes. He became conscious, in some indefinable way, that she was aware of his watching her and there was a tiny sarcastic curl at the corners of her lips. Ames bent himself studiously to his paper. Mechanically he read again the headlines about the horse show, and the regatta, and the scandal at Newport; and turned from them to the advertisements of Ocean Foam Baking Powder, and Brainful Breakfast Cereal; and "Kleno; the Good Old-Fashioned Stuff!"

That last advertisement annoyed him very much. Those six words were set in the midst of a great blank space, with a heavy black border around it, and a question mark underneath.

The cold, even voice of the girl flowed on, and on. Lewis was a hard-working student, it seemed; and "Miss Janie" knew everything. Not that she made any tremendous assumption of knowledge, but that she was actually an astounding storehouse of well-digested education.

Ames grew tremendously fascinated. He found himself waiting for her to slip; but she was right there with the correct answer, and the logical reason for it; about Cetero, and the binomial theorem, and the cosmos, and Arnold Bennett, and a new kind of fudge. If she tripped any place, it was past where John Ames had been in the book; and he had leafed through quite a distance himself. Again he caught that sarcastic little curl, and looked carefully out of the window, with a splendid restraint from abruptness. His eye lit on a big sign-board, devoted entirely to "Kleno; the Good-

Old-Fashioned Stuff!" Not caring a continental what this Kleno might or might not be, he slammed down his paper, and frankly listened.

It seemed that "Miss Janie" had a grandfather, and a father and mother, and a normal number of uncles and aunts and cousins, and a pet niece, most of whom bore the family name of Stanbury. She had been vibrating on this road, from branch to branch of the family tree, since she was a child. It would be a treat to talk with a girl like that.

A loose-faced brakeman popped his head in at the door, and yelled something which was probably the name of a town. He smiled at Miss "Janie" Stanbury, and she nodded brightly.

A savage-looking conductor came through. He was as early in appearance as if he ate nothing but raw meat, and he leaned over, as he passed "Janie's" seat, and made a remark which brought forth a giggle.

The train slowed down. The intellectual porter brushed Miss Stanbury, and accepted a quarter, and gathered up her baggage.

Mechanically, as if obeying some power outside his volition, tall John Ames picked up his own luggage, and followed.

"Beg your pardon, sir; this isn't your station," politely advised the porter.

"Oh, well, never mind," answered Ames, as one in a dream, and handed the porter a coin.

The amazingly informed girl, quite "smart" looking seen now in movement, stepped into a waiting family carriage, and the porter stepped on the train, leaving John Ames alone. In the middle of the platform, with his trunks in the baggage car ahead, and his reason cursing his impulse, which had so often made a fool of him.

The train and the carriage moved away at the same moment. The porter, looking back, smiled broadly; then opened a wide mouth, and laughed. The girl, turning, did not smile. She grinned!

Chapter II.

About the only thing of interest John Ames saw in the town was a three-story frame building with the side blown out and without a whole pane of glass in it. The noteworthy thing about it, however, was a big new gilt sign above the cornice, which said:

"Kleno
The Good Old-Fashioned Stuff."
The building itself was blackened, and grimed, and water-soaked; and its weather-bearding hung on it as if the structure had been carelessly rattled.

"Cleaning compound," explained the cigar store man, passing the street; guaranteed to take the spots off anything from a rotten reputation to a calico horse.

"The company has apparently moved," guessed Ames, trying still another brand of cigar without much hope.

"The day of the explosion," returned the official joker, who had cultivated the trick of never smiling.

"Anyone hurt?" and Ames wondered if he might not have done better by lighting the other end of his pipe.

"Nope at least Henry never said so," Ames frowned slightly with displeasure.

"Killed," he surmised. "One of the workmen?"

"The busiest one of the whole lot, but he was the proprietor," stated the cigar store man, who was frog-eyed.

"Henry Phelps was well enough off to satisfy most anybody, until he thought about 'Kleno'; but his heirs have no pride in the business. The way Henry popped across the street kind of discouraged them."

Ames had no difficulty for the topic of which.

"All that advertising gone to waste," he worried. "It must have cost a fortune."

The cigar dealer was explaining, in his most humorous vein, just how much money Henry Phelps had spent, and how foolish he had been to spend it, and how regretful his heirs were about it, when an old-fashioned buggy drove by. Behind the plodding white horse sat Janet Stanbury and a straight little gray-haired man of the ancient school, whose firm lips sat above a chin which missed a beard.

"Nice looking old chap," commented Ames with tremendous indifference.

"Doc Dill," grinned the cigar dealer. "He's quit practice so he can read more. This is a high-brow town. The girl with him lives next door to the professor. They're writing a book. Wouldn't that kill you? How do you like that, eh?"

"It's most uncomfortable," stated Ames, and resolved to buy no more in that place.

In That Sense, Anyway.

DIDN'T HAVE A NICKEL—BUT HIS CHECK

A wealthy man once had to borrow a nickel in order to ride to his office on the street car. No ready money—but he could give a certified check for $100,000. He did not carry much cash with him, he banked almost every cent he made and paid everything by check. That's the reason he was wealthy, he saved, saved every cent he could.

Your funds deposited in this old established bank are thus readily available, constantly subject to check but not where you are apt to spend them foolishly.

SCHOOL TEACHERS URGE RE-ELECTION OF PEPPER

Senator's Great Work to Bring About Increased Pay Won't Be Forgotten by Women.

HAS STATE-WIDE POPULARITY

Thirty-nine counties throughout the state of Pennsylvania are completely organized and solid in their support of Senator George Wharton Pepper.

Report of the spontaneous enthusiasm evinced by women in smaller voting districts of the state as well as in large cities for the candidacy of Senator Pepper has just been made by Mrs. Thomas, Robinson, chairman of the Women's Activities of the Central Pepper Committee, in Philadelphia.

In Lebanon county, Pepper committees are working in every section, and under the direction of Mrs. A. R. Senbold, two women have been appointed in each voting district. Mrs. Ruth Bennett, chairman of the Committee of Colored Women, throughout the state has begun intensive work among colored women and reports the closest co-operation of their committees and the greatest enthusiasm in every section in which they are working.

Women Working For Pepper.

If not more active than the men in championing the candidacy of Senator Pepper, whose name at the primary election on May 16 will appear on the Republican ballot for nomination as the party's candidate for the unexpired term of the late Senator Boise Penrose, women of the state are manifesting a certain zest which comes with a recently acquired privilege of supporting a candidate in whose success each woman feels a personal interest.

Handreds of letters of endorsement of Senator Pepper are pouring into the office of the Central Campaign Committee from women of all classes and all sections of the state. The dominant note of praise of the senator running through all the letters is his sympathy with all ranks of people, his patriotism and his ability to exercise sound judgment on matters of national as well as international importance.

Popular With School Teachers.

Probably the most insistent group of Senator Pepper's protagonists are the school teachers of Pennsylvania. Enjoining as they have never enjoyed before the privileges which they all recognize to be the result of the senator's constructive work and untiring efforts in their behalf, they are leaving no stone unturned to secure him as their representative in the United States senate.

In the latest issue of the "News Letter," a monthly publication gotten out by the school teachers of Philadelphia, the following endorsement appeared in "box" form on the front page:

"Who was indeed a friend in our very great need two years ago?"

"George Wharton Pepper."

"Such men glorify public service. Let us honor ourselves at the May primaries."

"Remember the date—May 16."

"Such evidences of earnestness and whole-heartedness on the part of organized bodies of citizens of the city of Philadelphia are not only unusual, but also from participation in any thing favoring of politics, marks a new era in political affairs which is significant."

"Gratitude of the sort expressed by the school teachers is felt by every organization and every individual that has at any time been associated with Senator Pepper."

Civic Club Pledges Support.

At another get-together luncheon at the Civic Club yesterday women of Philadelphia known to be interested in every cause which lends itself to civic betterment, pledged their unfailing efforts to secure the nomination of the candidate of their choice, Senator George Wharton Pepper, at the primaries.

"The candidacy of Honorable George Wharton Pepper for the United States senate has my deep interest," said Mrs. Gertrude B. Biddi, president of the Civic Club.

"The commonwealth of Pennsylvania is now so worthily represented by Mr. Pepper in the national councils that it seems to me to be not only a duty but a privilege to support him."

Mrs. Dunning's Endorsement.

Adding her word to the general declaration of approval of the senator, Mrs. George A. Dunning, vice-president of the Women's Republican Club of Pennsylvania, said:

"In endorsing the candidacy of Senator Pepper, it gives me great personal satisfaction to add my word to the universal expression of approval. A splendid record for square dealing and ability, no political affiliations of that kind which might warp his judgment, and the courage to look to his convictions, make of him a representative in the senate of whom his state may well be proud."

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Yesterday we gave you Dr. Royal S. Copeland's recipe for one hundred years of life. Dr. Copeland requires a person to do a lot of things in order to attain the century mark, but here comes a couple of French doctors with a formula that lays the New York Physician in the shade. The French pair, noted scientists, have a system whereby you "let George do it," and beat Dr. Copeland fifty years.

They explained to the Geographical Society of Paris on Monday last, their system of rejuvenation, whereby we can all live to be at least 150 years old.

As explained by these savants the newly discovered system consists in muscular injection of new cells for old ones. The doctors cited several instances where their method of replacing worn out cells had been successful in prolonging life. The scientists who claim to have perfected this treatment are Drs. David Javoriski and Vachet.

To use an old time Clearfield colloquialism, President Harding won't "pint old men," at least to the office of Federal Judge. A general administration policy has been decided upon in the appointment of Federal Judges the chief feature of which is that no appointment will be made of men who are over sixty years of age it was learned at the White House.

ust recently. There has been just one deviation from that rule thus far and that was on the appointment of Chief Justice William Howard Taft.

Much excitement has been occasioned in Northern Ontario by the discovery of a new placer gold mining area South of Monrovia, Monroe Lake, according to consular reports received by the Department of Commerce. One hundred and fifty claims have been staked out within the last three weeks and prospectors are entering the region every day.

The new placer mining district is about four miles East of the famous Cruesus mine, which produced gold in large quantities prior to 1914.

B. C. Forbes, the noted Financial Expert of the New York American is responsible for the following interesting observation upon the status of living costs the past ten years.

The high peak was reached on February 1st, 1920. The maximum advance then shown was fully 126 per cent.

The low point since then was touched on June 1 of last year, the advance over 1913 being then only slightly more than fifteen per cent. Since then there has been an irregular advance, amounting in all to 12 per cent.

After declining during March, there was quite an appreciable recovery last month, about 1 1/2 per cent.

Let us examine which class of commodities and merchandise have advanced most and which have advanced least since prewar days.

Taking the 1913 average as 100, the different groups now stand at the following average prices:

Breadstuffs	131
Livestock	105

Provisions
Fruits
Hides and Leather
Textiles
Metals
Coal and coke

Dr. S. D. Bailey, of Clearfield, has purchased the pretty home of Andrew Nelson, on the corner of Ninth and Pine Streets, not very far from the residence of the former's brother Lewis Bailey. He will bring his family here and take possession of his newly acquired property about the middle of June—Philipsburg Journal.

ATLANTIC GASOLINE

Puts Pep in Your Motor

It is no great achievement to sell a man a gasoline once—for then the urge to buy is aided by the willingness to try.

But to sell him the same brand of gasoline over and over, month after month—that's where uniformly high quality counts; where the only successful selling influence is—SATISFACTION.

That's why Atlantic Gasoline stays sold. That's why the majority of motorists use Atlantic—and stick to it!

Atlantic is good gasoline. But it is more than that. It is right gasoline. It is made for present-day motors and to meet the wide range of operating conditions a gasoline encounters.

Atlantic is a balanced gasoline. Its uniform "chain of boiling points" combines the volatility required for quick and sure ignition with the more stable elements a gasoline must have to put power into the drive.

What's more, Atlantic is dependable. It is uniform. Buy it anywhere, any time. It never disappoints.

PARTISAN ATTACKS

The nature of the attacks made upon Attorney General Daugherty indicates that they are inspired by political motives for the purpose of discrediting the department of justice and impeding its prosecution of criminals. Several attorneys general have had experiences of this kind.

When simmered down, the most serious charges against Mr. Daugherty are that he is a politician and that he is a bad enemy and a good friend. As politicians make these charges, and as all good Americans are politicians, or ought to be, it seems hardly probable that Mr. Daugherty will suffer ignominy because of his activity in politics. If all citizens were as active in politics as Mr. Daugherty, the affairs of the United States would be capably administered at all times and there would be fewer charlatans in public places. The imposter and "four-flusher" instinctively hates a man like Harry Daugherty. So long as he is attorney general there is no comfort to be found by law-breakers, and nothing would please them so much as to have him resign in discouragement and disgust as a result of their attacks. But they mistake their man.

The public interest, so far as the prosecution of crimes against the United States is concerned, is in the hands of an official who can not be swerved from his duty. He knows the interests that are making the fight against him, and no doubt he will take extra pleasure in making sure that they get their deserts from the United States government.

"The public is failing to respond to the appeal for financial aid."

That is a familiar line to be seen in the newspapers of the country; it has been a familiar line for months.

Indeed, the appeal must be freighted with the heavy burden of need these days, if the general public is to unloose its purse strings and permit money to roll forth. The general public is not letting its silver and gold roll into the maw of every campaign that is undertaken without knowing that, in addition to it being a good cause, there is good cause for it. The numerous drives waged during the war had their birth with the war and the inspiration for them ended with the war.

Never again will there be that generous response of war days without the shadows of war. But, always, the people of America will respond to the need of the American communities. The Salvation Army is a real need. Keep this in mind and help them get their budget.

"What would be the reaction upon the cost of living if advertising ceased and its beneficent force were stopped?" This question, asked by the Fourth Estate, provides much food for rumination.

It is an interesting conjecture. Advertising largely takes the place of personal selling effort, which is very much more expensive.

A California editor cogitating on the possibility of a cessation of advertising says:

"It would mean that our railroad trains would be thronged with salesmen whose homeward bound mail would carry fewer orders, all of smaller volume than now.

"Distribution upon the present scale would be impossible. Manufacturing would fall off, with a consequent decrease in labor demand. Jobbers would find their business proportionally limited. Retailers would make fewer and slower turnovers. Prices of all commodities would take a rise that would make war prices and ante-war prices seem low by comparison."

You have a temperament. Everybody has. Old fashioned folk would call it your disposition. But science is following a more modern style. So you might as well get in line and acknowledge that you, too, are carrying a temperament concealed somewhere about your person.

Very well, then, how about getting acquainted with your temperament? It is the child of your moods and the grandchild of your emotions. Want to test it out? If you stand living with yourself, do this for a month.

When you get up every morning scowl at yourself in the mirror. At the end of the month, say psychologists, your facial map will resemble a sector of no man's land in rainy weather. Then start smiling at what you see in the mirror on the thirty-first day. You will perk up wonderfully. Friends will marvel at the change that's come over you. And your digestion will be better.

But don't keep up the morning smile too persistently. It may degenerate into a simper. Having let your temperament go to both extremes, take control and regulate it. Let the be joyous without becoming chronically sanguine.

Lutheran Church Notes

The members of St. John's are not only interested in the work at home but have manifested a deep interest in the work of the Master in other lands. This interest has been shown in a substantial financial way. The Sunday school and Women's Missionary Society each gave $50.00 to further the work of the Kingdom in the South American field. Last Sunday St. John's gave $348.00 for the Orphanage of Armenia. They believe the Master and give in that spirit.

This evening at 7:45 will be held the Annual Congregational meeting at which time a full and complete report will be read from all the organizations, showing the activities during the past year. At this time three councilmen will be elected for a 3 year period. Following the business meeting a reception will be given to all new members received during the present pastorate of 18 months, 98 members have been received during this time.

All members new and old, are invited and urged to be present this evening at 7:45 for the business session and to enjoy the social hour following. Come!

Mrs. Nannie Fulford left today for Boardman where she will spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fulford.

The Point of View

One of the most curious things about American politics is that without a single historical exception a partisan is invariably a member of the other party.—Washington Post.

We are told that there is nothing sure but death and taxes; still we feel pretty certain that we shall never see a circus parade headed by a policeman.

WASHING IS HARD WORK

Even With a Machine to Help

The machine can't draw water, lug it to the stove, heat it, and empty it into the washer. It can't drag heavy baskets of soggy clothes to the line, pin them up, take them down, and bring them in again.

We'll relieve you of all this heavy work—take all the steam and bother out of your home—wash for you, iron, too, if you wish, at a cost within your reach.

We have several different types of service. Each is thorough and economical. No initial investment is required; no long-drawn-out installments to be met each month.

You'll find this modern way of washing a most welcome relief—phone today and have our representative call.

FOR THE HONOR of PENNSYLVANIA

VOTE FOR

Gifford Pinchot

FOR GOVERNOR

A Vote for Pinchot is:

A vote to end scandalous manipulations of millions of dollars of public funds in favorite banks, and the flotation of notes for powerful politicians, after the receipt of large deposits of taxpayers' money.

A vote to guarantee the immediate installation of a budget system.

A vote to exterminate the contractors' combine which has its traitorous tentacles at the throat of the Republican State organization, and, banking upon a friendly administration at Harrisburg, has its greedy eyes riveted upon the tens of millions of dollars in State highway and other construction contracts soon to be let, and the control of the taxing power over upwards of forty billions of dollars of assessed property.

A vote to destroy for all time, that malign and sinister alliance of State officials and political contractors, responsible for the orgy of profligate extravagance and reign of legislative anarchy, which saddled upon the people, among other things, these iniquitous enactments:

A tax on anthracite coal, a most unjustifiable affliction upon householders, with Attorney General Alter now fighting to have the State Supreme Court reverse itself in order that this levy may be adjudged constitutional.

A tax on gasoline, which seriously affects practically every farmer, merchant and, among others, especially, the man of limited means with his family pleasure car.

A doubled collateral inheritance tax, which requires every relative of a decedent, however small the amount involved may be, to contribute from an estate one hundred per cent. more in taxes than was taken by the State before Sproul and his Attorney General were inaugurated.

A payroll of many increased salaries for favored ones, while aid is withheld from the gallant soldiers of the World War and their dependents, and a payroll padded to an unprecedented degree to create fat jobs for professional politicians.

To Vote for Pinchot

(Put a cross mark after his name as indicated below)

GOVERNOR

George E. Alter (Allegheny County)
Frank P. Croft (Montgomery County)
Gifford Pinchot (Clearfield County)	X
John Clinton Parker (Pottsville County)
John S. Fisher (Indiana County)

NOTE—John S. Fisher withdrew too late to have his name taken off the ballot. A vote for Fisher, therefore is a vote thrown away.

A vote for Pinchot means an immediate housecleaning, a thorough conscientious REPUBLICAN housecleaning, with no political or factional interests to serve—but with the sole aim of effecting an economical and efficient administration of the State Government, and the elimination of contractor rule of the Republican Party of Pennsylvania.

Don't Nominate Alter

unless you wish to endorse the Sproul-Vare-Leslie-Eyre leadership, and its record as set forth herein—and more—and you wish to invite Republican disaster in November.

Nominate Pinchot

and you insure a complete official reckoning on Capitol Hill, as Edwin S. Stuart accomplished in the Capitol building graft cases, and you make certain the election of a solid Republican delegation to Congress to back up President Harding.

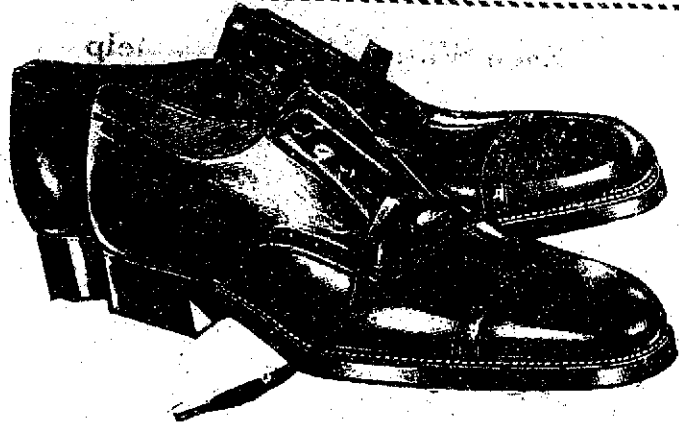

GO TO THE REPUBLICAN PRIMARIES NEXT TUESDAY

CURWENSVILLE

Our Elementary Schools closed last Thursday and the teachers of the various rooms are enjoying an enforced vacation. They may be found at the following addresses:

Miss Marian Underwood, Clearfield, Pa.; Miss Edna McCracken, Clearfield, Pa.; Miss Louise Karstetter, Curwensville, Pa.; Miss Freda Colgrove, Clearfield, Pa.; Miss Marian Snyder, Curwensville, Pa.; Miss Emma E. Stolzhus, Martinsburg, Pa.; Miss Elizabeth Whitaker, Curwensville, Pa.; Miss Bernice LaBorde, Curwensville, Pa.; Miss Mildred E. Tate, Duncansville, Pa.; Miss Cora L. Haley, Curwensville, Pa.; Miss Inez Redden, Mahaffey.

The departure of these young women leaves but eight teachers in our schools to finish the nine months term from one to six inclusive having but an eight month's term. Prof. Norris gladdened the hearts of the remaining grades and the High School yesterday by announcing that all students who make 85% per cent or better in conduct will be exempt from final examinations in all branches in which they make 90% or better. This system of exemption is an incentive to better work, each day as well as better conduct and is a decidedly commendable move on the part of our successful Sept.

On Monday morning at chapel Prof. Norris announced "Class Night" for Friday, May 12 in the Opera House. He said that the Seniors were keeping their program a secret but that he understands it will be a transcendental apocalyptic performance without any platitudinous ponderosity. It is expected that the bowl of ecstasies would be full to overflowing. Each member of the class will give a few tintinnabulations from the "memories that swell" and personify his own eccentricities and idiosyncrasies. The Junior declared they will discover and make known the program before Friday night but the Seniors vow that their secret is so safely guarded that it will be a complete surprise and a mighty pleasant surprise at that. The Faculty has been holding meetings to determine whether or not to compel the Seniors to pass their program over to be censored. But the Seniors claim they have a perfect right to hold a show all their own without molestation from Faculty, School Board, Board of Health, Burgess Erhard or Chief Clarke. Anyway there is going to be some fun over the matter. John Norris knows all about it, he had to before he could permit it to be shown in the Opera House, but he is sworn to secrecy. So there you are!!!

The last spelling contest will be held in the study hall of the High School on Friday afternoon, July 12. The words will be made out by Prof. Croyle and Zettler and Misses Walters and Burkett. Mr. Reuben Robinson should feel gratified over the success of these contests and the interest he stimulated in spelling. Every boy admits that spelling is fundamental and is often neglected for something less important.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Hipps, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bloom, Mr. and Mrs. Al McNaull, Mr. and Mrs. John Pifer took in the Victor Artists at Clearfield on Tuesday night.

Miss Olive Passmore of Lumber City, shopped in town on Wednesday.

Jack Jones of Buffalo, was a business visitor on Wednesday.

Mrs. Axel Landgren of Smith's Mills is a pleasant guest of her sister-in-law Mrs. Jas Volpe on Ridge avenue.

Miss Ellen Sykes enjoyed a short visit this week from her brother Mr. George Sykes and nephew, Mr. Ronald Sykes of DuBois.

For Preference. A reader mentions the case of a detective, who, after twenty years, remembered the face of a forger, and arrested the man when the crime had almost been forgotten. One would rather have that sort of memory than that sort of face.

"The House of Quality"

By McMANUS

FOR STATE SENATOR

34TH DISTRICT OF PENNSYLVANIA

HARRY B. SCOTT

OF

PHILIPSBURG, PENNSYLVANIA

- 1.—Clearfield and Centre Counties are the heart of the State of Pennsylvania, embracing many of the great natural resources of our State and require real representation at Harrisburg.
- 2.—Clearfield and Centre Counties have the best people on earth and demand recognition. Why should Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties dictate the legislative policies of our State? We need a man who can "speak out in meeting" for the benefit of his constituents.
- 3.—Clearfield and Centre Counties need a Senator who is experienced in legislative procedure and will know when the things are "being pulled off" that may work to the detriment of these two great counties.
- 4.—Clearfield and Centre Counties need a Senator who can be depended upon to demand and receive respect and attention.

expect nothing else from any candidate. I am asking the Republican voters of Pennsylvania, however, to pass upon the candidacy of these two men without prejudice or passion, but to exercise the soundest discretion to determine which one, by his himself or to fight his way in the past training and performances, will be the better prepared man to meet the problems of the future.

Pinchot's Training

Mr. Pinchot, perhaps unfortunately for the development of those sturdy qualities that are so really needed at the present time, inherited great wealth. He found no necessity for hard work and untiring application for the purpose of maintaining overshadowed all others in importance. I have frequently said that because of his wealth and an opportunity to lead a life of leisure, he is entitled to credit for having turned his activities into rather useful channels, but like a great many sons of rich parents, he took up a particular field of activity as a hobby and has devoted his time to forestry. If Pennsylvania were still a forest or if that department of State government ance, it might be well to consider Mr. Pinchot as a possible candidate. I submit that he has not had sufficient experience in executive places nor has he been hardened in that struggle for existence that has been the real school for the development of character and responsible position in Pennsylvania. His life has been spent in New York City and Washington, D. C., where he now maintains his real home. His technical residence, may, perhaps be in Pike County, but it sees him very infrequently. He has not the ability to approach the consideration of any great question with that judicial and judicious poise so necessary to successfully fill the office of chief executive of the great State of Pennsylvania. He is an enthusiast, an idealist and a thoroughly impractical man. I am his personal friend and admirer, but when a man submits himself as a candidate for the greatest office within the gift of a people of a great State, he must cheerfully extend to even his friends the right to apply the acid test of fitness. I cannot concede even to a friend the right to ask the Republican voters of Pennsylvania to elevate him to the highest place within their gift when, in 1914, he deliberately declared that he was through with our party forever.

Attorney General Alter's Early Life

Let us turn, now, to the qualifications of Hon. George E. Alter. He still lives, and always has, in the town in Allegheny County where he was born. He is the offspring of a sturdy stock that for over a century has added lustre to its name and benefited the State by very hard and intensive employment. He is a product of our public schools. He has run the gamut of human experience—he clerked in stores, worked on a farm, studied stenography, spent several years in an architect's office where he became a proficient draftsman. While maintaining himself as a stenographer, he studied law and was admitted to the Bar of Allegheny County. He has been a member of the House of Representatives. His career in the sessions of 1909, 1911 and 1913 was brilliant and useful to our people. He was elected Speaker of the House in 1913. As a member of a Commission of Three he collaborated with two Common Pleas Judges in codifying and revising the laws of decedents' estates. This work culminated in the Decedents' Estate Act of 1917. He was a member of the Constitutional Amendment and Revision Commission in 1919. In 1920 he was appointed Attorney General of the State. He has been President of the Allegheny County Bar Association for two years and member of the Pennsylvania Bar Association and the American Bar Association. For thirty-two years he taught a Sunday School Class in the church of his choice and for thirty-four years he has been an official member of the Church Board. He has served as President of School Boards and Borough Councils. As a member of the Legislature he sponsored the Act under which the County of Allegheny erected the Boys' Farm School at Thornhill. He was an early advocate of the Workmen's Compensation Law and made the first speech in its behalf in the Legislative Halls in 1911. He was the first to advocate the Mothers' Pension Legislation. He helped to pass the Act of 1913, under which that great work was begun. He also supported and championed in 1913 the Women's Labor Act and the Child Labor Law. He is President of the Parting-of-the-Ways, an institution in Pittsburgh which takes care of men released from prison and seeks out work for them and gives them a new start in the world. He is Chairman of the Allegheny Valley District of the Boy Scouts of America. He has always deliberately chosen to champion and defend the poor man's causes and has ever turned a deaf ear to the flattery of wealth and power. He has been given honorary degrees by both Pennsylvania State and Lafayette Colleges. He is a lawyer of great ability—still small minded political partisans would charge that a man with a career such as this could be induced to forsake his independent course of righteousness and follow the advice of those who have not the State's best interests at heart!

The intelligent Pennsylvania voter will reject this plea as a slur upon the integrity of purpose of one of Pennsylvania's most illustrious and worthiest sons. His platform suggests achievement and sanity. His declarations are conservative and safe. He will appeal to the men and women of Pennsylvania who are not carried off their feet by unfounded charges and influenced by impossible promises. Mr. Pinchot now denounces Mr. Alter because he charges that he is being supported by those political leaders whom Mr. Pinchot and his friends sought out but failed to convince.

Futile Promises

Mr. Alter matches Pinchot in every one of his reasonable and possible declarations and has past performances as a guarantee for the future. Mr. Pinchot, in his rash statements, calculated only to deceive the unthinking, either has no conception of the constitutional limitations of the Governor's power or deliberately attempts to deceive.

I urge every patriotic citizen to actively support Attorney General Alter and thus enthroned Reason and Good Judgment and show the country at large that the good men and women of Pennsylvania are not carried from their moorings by unprovable charges and sensational declarations. Pennsylvania is solvent and patriotic and stands today where she always has stood—the Keystone of the arch and the greatest industrial State of all this Union. Our people are happy contented, devoted to good causes and fixed in their purpose to allow neither demagogue nor ambitious politicians to disturb their usual peaceful and well determined course.

The Working Man

The future success of the working man depends upon the prosperity of the employer. Business cannot trust thoughtless enthusiasm but will support the sane, careful and conservative Alter.

Yours for success

BATHING POOL TRAGEDY

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 11.—The body of an unidentified boy about seven years of age, was found in the reservoir adjoining the power plant at the Carnegie Institute of Technology. Marks on the child's head indicated that he had struck bottom while making a dive. His clothing was found by workmen near where the body was found.

WAR VETERAN STRICKEN

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects. They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

REEL ROMANCE, OR REAL ROMANCE, FOR PEGGY AND JACK:-

JACK DEMPSEY, WORLD'S HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION WHO MAY ACT IN A MOVIE WITH PEGGY JOYCE

Paris, May 6.—The world's greatest siren and the world's greatest prize fighter—will they undertake a reel romance, and may it become a real romance?

Paris is wondering. Peggy Joyce and Jack Dempsey are considering overtures to co-star in a movie. Both are reported seriously interested and Dempsey is said to have given more than passing attention to this American chorus girl, who has trampled ruthlessly on the hearts of many millionaires.

Acquaintances of both are asking would Peggy find a suitable mate in Dempsey? They think so. But Dempsey fans fear her exactions would ruin the fistie career of their idol, should he be lured by her caresses.

Peggy, though says she is done with him—as a lover.

The reason—the suicide the other day of William Errazuriz, the young Chilean, rich and married, who killed in himself because she refused to accept his attentions but told him she devoted to Henri Letellier the French editor.

Letellier was named in the divorce suit of Peggy's third husband.

Could Dempsey win where three millionaires have failed?

Peggy married Everett A. Archibald a Denver millionaire, when she was 17. The husband soon got a divorce and she ran away from him two years later and went on the stage. She explained that millionaires were horrid things, all wrapped up in coupons and bonds and neve with time for any thing but business. It was love that she wanted.

Along came James Stanley Joyce, Chicago lumberman. The morning after he met Peggy he sent her a truckload of roses and a $130,000 diamond ring.

As soon as the Hopkins divorce was settled, Joyce married Peggy.

They went abroad on their honeymoon. But the husband returned alone.

Peggy was too much in demand.

So he started divorce proceedings, naming a long list of co-respondents, including a prince, a dancer, a duke, a New York restaurant keeper, and Letellier.

The divorce was granted last November. Peggy received a million and a quarter dollars for her settlement.

Since then she has been living in Paris.

Proof That Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is of Great Help at This Period

Metropolis, Illinois.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it is all I need to be and has benefited me wonderfully. I had been sick for eight months with a trouble which confined me to my bed and was only able to be up part of the time when I was advised by a friend, Mrs. Smith, to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. I was so much benefited by the use of these medicines that I was able to be up and about in two weeks. I was at the Change of Life when I began taking the medicines and I passed over that time without any trouble. Now I am hale and hearty, do all my housework, washing, ironing, scrubbing, and cooking, all there is to do about a house, and can walk two or three miles without getting too tired. I know of several of my neighbors who have been helped by your medicines."

—Mrs. EMMA CURVE, 705 E. 7th St., Metropolis, Illinois.
Depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Nervousness, irritability, heat flashes, headache and dizziness, are relieved by this splendid medicine.

PESKY BED BUGS

Bedbugs lay an average of seven eggs per day. Under favorable conditions they hatch in five days of which two-thirds are females. They mature to adult size and are capable of living in four weeks. How many bedbugs would you have in a year if you left one female or egg unmolested for one year?

To get rid of pesky bedbugs you need a potent agent in every package to kill the pesky devils in the hard-to-get places and save in price.

P. D. Q. is not an insect powder, no mist of dust, does not hurt or burn the bedding. P. D. Q. for millions of bedbugs, makes five gallons. P. D. Q. can also be put in sealed bottles, double strength, that the safest and most economical way to stop.

Genuine P. D. Q. is never peddled.

WANDA HAWLEY IN "BOBBED HAIR"

The fickle tale of a flapper who tried to be futuristic. Exposing her thrilling adventures with short-haired women and long-haired men. For, tired of a lover who loved his business, she fled to one of those "colony" places and dolled herself in sandals and Grecian draperies. Come see her get her fill of "new thought" and "new freedom" and thank her stars to be just an old-fashioned girl. A picture as pert as its title—all smiles and pep!

The Safest and Best Family Medicine

OUR MILK IS THE SAFEST MILK KNOWN

There's only one way to make milk absolutely safe and that is to pasteurize. This process destroys germs in a more satisfactory manner than any other way known to science.

Health officers have known for many years that pasteurized milk is absolutely safe and they have recommended unqualifiedly that all milk coming into their territories should undergo this process, as a factor of public safety. These facts have been made clear by experiments on humans and animals—that pasteurized milk is the only really safe milk that can be used with perfect safety.

CONSTIPATION NEARLY RUINED HIM

Famous Entertainer Made Well Again By Nerv-Worth

Thousands of people throughout the world have been delighted by the wonderful Edison records of Harry Siebert the famous whistler. Few could know that this charming man was practically a nervous wreck from constipation and stomach trouble for several years and that he had about despaired of getting any relief when he heard of the wonderful family remedy Nerv-Worth. But such is the fact. He improved so rapidly that he gained seven pounds before he had finished the first bottle. It was good healthy, firm flesh too. This famous remedy aids digestion, sweetens the stomach, stops gas and belching and bloating, regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, tones up the system, and does it all in an easy, natural manner without the use of any harmful drugs, but simple reliable vegetable essences that act directly upon the seat of trouble.

Most druggists have it; you can always get it at the Stewart Drug store in this city and each druggist is authorized to give the money back if the results of the first bottle are not encouraging. It is especially fine for women and children because of its pleasant taste and mild but always effective action.
